

HOLIDAY TOLL LOW OVER U.S. FOR WEEKEND

Decrease In Deaths Noted As Nation Observes Extended Playtime

Millions of Americans returned to their jobs today after enjoying a "safe and sane" Labor day weekend that was marked by one of the lowest totals of accidental deaths for a three-day holiday in the past year.

A United Press survey showed that 423 persons lost their lives in accidents from Friday night to last night. Of the total, 257 were killed in traffic crashes, 45 by drowning, and 122 in miscellaneous accidents that included almost a dozen airplane crashes.

California's list of 34 fatalities led the nation. Texas was close behind with 31 deaths. In Pennsylvania there were 27. New York and North Carolina counted 25 each, and in Washington there were 17.

The figures compared with a record toll of 629 persons killed in the three-day Fourth of July holiday this year and 456, killed during the 1947 Labor day weekend.

Survey Shows 423 Dead
A survey taken for a "typical" non-holiday weekend from Aug. 7 to 9, including Monday, showed that 423 persons were killed. Here is a table of accidental deaths for the past holidays and the "average" weekend:

	Traffic	Dr. Mts.	To.
Aug. 7-9-9	257	45	122
4th of July (1948)	296	204	129
Labor day (1947)	272	70	114

Public officials believed that the high Fourth-of-July total was one of the principal causes for the reduction in the Labor day total.

"Lots of people were just plain scared to get out on the roads," one police officer said.

Cyclist Hurt In Traffic Collision

Only three minor accidents in the city were reported for Labor day weekend by the police department. One person was injured slightly.

Wilmer Green of 137 W. Second st. lost control of his motorcycle and ran into the rear of a car driven by Ewman Harris of Akron, which was stopped in a line of traffic on E. State st. at 5:35 p. m. Monday. Green suffered bruises. The front wheel of his motorcycle was demolished.

Another motorcycle, ridden by Benton R. Togg of Cleveland Heights, emerged from an alley on E. Pershing st. and hit the left front fender of a car driven by John Abblett of Hubbard at 5:10 p. m. Sunday, police said.

The fender and bumper of the car were damaged, as were the front fender and forks of the motorcycle. A car driven by Patrick Hester of 146 E. Pershing st. made a turn from S. Lincoln ave. onto Perry st. at 10:30 p. m. Monday and collided with a stopped car operated by Joe R. Siciliano of Dearborn, Mich. The left rear fender of the latter car was damaged.

1,804 IN COUNTY SIGN FOR DRAFT

LISBON, Sept. 7—County Draft Board Chairman J. Homer Browne today announced that 1,804 men registered in Columbiana county last week, during the first five day period of the new draft.

He warned, however, that "too many people are taking the registration too casually" and that those who have missed their registration day should sign up immediately. Failure to register carries a fine of $10,000 and five years imprisonment, or both.

Air Force Vet Wins Thompson

ANSON LYNN JOHNSON, 28-year-old Air Force veteran from Miami Springs, Fla., flashes to victory in the 300-mile Thompson Trophy Race, speed classic of the 1948 National Races at Cleveland. Johnson averaged 383.767 miles an hour as he whipped his converted P-51 Mustang fighter around the 20 laps of the 15-mile closed course—13 MPH under the record. Picture shows Col. Roscoe Turner (right), only three-time winner of the race, presenting the winner's trophy to Johnson. The victor also received $16,000. (International)

THOMPSON AIR RACE WINNER COPS $16,500 PURSE MONDAY

BY JAMES J. STREIBIG
Associated Press Aviation Reporter
CLEVELAND, Sept. 7—Anson L. Johnson of Miami Springs, Fla., pinched himself today and looked for a $16,500 check to prove he had won the Thompson trophy, world classic of closed course air racing.

Johnson's surprise was shared by 80,000 persons at the final day of the National Air Races. The National Air Lines pilot didn't know until he was on the ground he had won.

His average speed was 383.767 miles an hour, computed from an elapsed time of 46 minutes 54 seconds for the 300-mile run around the 15-mile rectangular course. It was more than 12 miles an hour below the record speed set a year ago.

One of Safest
The race was one of the safest though it started out as the fastest in the history of the Thompson. It began as a three plane race, with the three leaders doing better than 400 miles an hour. And it ended as a three-plane race. Four prizes totaling $7,500 went begging.

Seven of the ten starters dropped out because of mechanical trouble, among them the three hottest racers in the contest.

Charles E. Brown of Indianapolis, who looked like a sure winner with a new record, was the last to quit. His fuel pressure fell until finally he had no power and landed dead stick.

Cook Cleland of Cleveland and Richard Becker of Toledo, O., flying twin entries, pressed Brown for the lead, but quit within five laps. The three planes had been so far ahead of the field it was not really a contest. Brown had lapped all but Johnson when he quit.

The only other finishers were the two old timers, Bruce E. Raymond, 46, of Hammond, Ind., and Wilson V. Newhall, 48, of Chicago, who has been racing since 1929. They got $8,000 and $4,500 respectively.

Herman R. Salmon of Van Nuys, Calif., won the $7,000 first prize in the Goodyear Trophy race for mid-gear planes. Steve Wittman of Oak-kosh, Wis., last year's winner, was second. The winning speed was 165.6 miles an hour, a new record by four miles an hour.

During the day the Air force announced that its P-56 North American jet fighter had averaged 669.48 miles an hour in three timed passes over the world speed record course on Sunday. No record was set because four timed passes are needed. The Air force abandoned its record quest at Cleveland and probably will try again over the Muroc, Calif., course.

Racing pilots called a meeting today to distribute prize money, complain about the 1948 events and plan for 1949. They were expected to support a proposal for a new type racer which will be in the 300 to 350 miles an hour class.

Ex-GI Withdraws Offer To Sell Eye For $2,100
MOUNT VERNON, Sept. 7—The ex-GI who offered to sell an eye for $2,100 to repay the government for allotment checks illegally cashed withdrew his proposal today.

Sherman Sorah, 31, a factory worker living near Centerburg, announced his plight Saturday. He said the government was demanding an immediate refund of 21 allotment checks which, he said, were sent his wife after his discharge in September of 1946.

Sorah said his wife cashed the checks with his knowledge. Since he lacked $2,100, Sorah said Saturday he would sell one of his eyes "to keep my wife from going to prison."

Today he said he "had found a friend who would help me out, so I'm withdrawing my offer."

Schools To Open Tomorrow; Full-Day Sessions Thursday

The Salem public schools will open on Wednesday morning. Following the usual customs, all pupils will be dismissed at noon.

During the forenoon, pupils will register, receive their books and assignments for the day. On Thursday classes will swing into action for the full day and another school year will be on.

Grade Schools Crowded
Beginning on Thursday and until the new Buckeye grade school opens, all pupils assigned to Buckeye school for the coming year will attend school at the Fourth Street building in the afternoons only. These pupils will not be in school during the mornings.

Pupils assigned to the Fourth Street school for the new term will attend classes at the Fourth Street building during the forenoons only. They will not be in school during the afternoons.

Beginning Thursday morning at McKinley school, grades one, two and three will meet in the mornings only, while grades four, five, and six will meet in the afternoons, Superintendent E. S. Kerr said.

As soon as alterations now under way in the old building at McKinley are completed, full-day sessions will begin. Only the four west rooms are available for classes now, he explained.

The usual full-day sessions will begin on Thursday morning at Columbus, Prospect, Reilly, the High school and Junior high. Probably full-day sessions will begin at McKinley in a week or two.

The half-day sessions at Fourth Street and McKinley are due to a lag in the board of education's building program.

Superintendent Kerr met with Salem school principals at 10 o'clock this morning to talk over arrangements for the new school year. At two o'clock this afternoon principals met with their teachers at the various schools to plan for the opening of schools tomorrow.

Because of the limited number of classrooms available to accommodate an increasing number of pupils it will be necessary to shift some pupils to schools other than they have been attending.

The school building program has not progressed far enough to provide any additional classrooms.

Regular session of Junior High will open at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. Principal Loren Earley announced today.

Pupils who have never attended the Junior High before are asked to report at the same time and register in the office.

Home room rolls have been posted on the bulletin board inside the building.

Keener Sees Germany As Key To European Recovery

(By Associated Press)
ROME, Sept. 7—Germany is the key to European recovery, says Samuel Keener, Salem, Ohio, industrialist, here on a European inspection trip.

The owner of Salem Engineering Co., arrived yesterday in his private DC-3 plane after trips to production centers in England, Germany, France, Belgium and Holland.

"Unless Europe can have the benefit of Germany's raw materials and basic production," he said in an interview, "I do not see how the rest of Europe can be rehabilitated."

Keener, 60, is making his 53rd trip to Europe, where his company has numerous business interests. In Germany, where he formerly had European headquarters, Keener visited Duesseldorf and nearby steel-making centers.

Production At Half
Keener said Germany's steel production is only half what it should be. Of the 10,700,000 tons permitted that nation by international agreement, he said, Germany today is producing only at the rate of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 tons a year.

"Lack of electric power, due to coal shortages and war damages, appear the basic cause of the lagging coal production," Keener declared.

He added, however, that the recent change in the Allied-controlled currency system had "given a big lift to morale. Factory owners told me their absenteeism had dropped from an alarming high of 40 to 50 per cent before the currency change to a present level of six to seven per cent."

The German workers had not much inclination to work for the old marks, which purchased precious little in the way of necessities," he added.

Keener said Italy is "about the brightest spot I've visited yet. In no other countries I visited were there such plentiful quantities of food and other necessities of life. The people seem more vigorous and appear better-fed here than elsewhere on the continent."

"Italy's steel industry has ambitious plans, and everywhere you get the idea that recovery is well advanced."

Keener said he plans talks with European recovery program officials here, after which he will return to Germany, where he hopes to see Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military governor of the American zone, before returning to the United States about Sept. 15.

Flying trips also are planned to Algiers, Madrid and London.

Keener said he will decide after his return home whether large-scale European operations will be resumed by his company, possibly in cooperation with ERP.

Death Threat Issued To French Officer

BERLIN, Sept. 7—An unidentified telephone caller today threatened the French liaison officer in city hall with death.

Maj. George Mrazovich, the Frenchman, is protecting 27 German police of the western zone who took refuge in the western power liaison offices yesterday to escape arrest during the Communist-led riot by Soviet controlled police. City hall is in the Russian sector.

"We will deliver that coffin you ordered shortly," the voice said.

Mrazovich said he ordered no coffin. His helper told him: "You will need it."

Weekend Traffic In Area Heavy; Mishaps Few

Although traffic on district highways was extremely heavy over the weekend, the state highway patrol reported a comparatively "quiet" period, with only two accidents to mar the holiday traffic.

Four persons were injured in the mishaps.

Herbert Means, 22, of East Liverpool, told the patrol he lost control of his motorcycle when a car driven by Leon Clemans, 34, of Liverpool pulled from a side road onto the Y. & O. road, five miles north of Liverpool at 5:20 p. m. Sunday.

In trying to evade the car, the motorcycle hit a dirt pile and rolled over.

Means suffered severe shock, while a passenger on the cycle, John Cosma, 24, of Liverpool, suffered a fractured right ankle, possible back fracture, lacerations and abrasions. Both were taken to Liverpool City hospital.

The motorcycle did not hit the car.

A car driven by William J. Jordan Jr., 46, of Alliance collided head-on with a car owned by Charles M. Rend, 20, of North Georgetown at 1 a. m. Monday on the Sebring-Pine Lake road, one mile west of Route 14.

The Rend car was stopped on the highway at the time.

Dorothy Weekly, 22, of Sebring, a passenger in the Jordan car, suffered possible back and abdominal injuries, while Eleanor Thorp, 17, of Jennings ave., Salem, suffered a lacerated cheek. She was sitting in the Rend vehicle.

Both were brought to Salem City hospital.

CLAY, ROBERTSON, KOENIG MAP NEXT STEP; 27 GERMAN POLICE HIDE IN CITY HALL

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 7—The western military governors considered today joint protests to the Russians against Communist-led riots which have disrupted blockaded Berlin's civil government.

A French liaison officer who is protecting 27 German police of the western zone in the city hall was threatened with death by an unidentified telephone caller as the western powers studied their next step. The 27 police remained hidden in the city hall, which is in the Russian sector.

The three Western military governors, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, Britain, and Gen. Pierre Koenig, France, met briefly. Then they went into their seventh conference on the Berlin blockade with their Russian counterpart, Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky.

Gen. Clay told newsmen he did not know whether the riots would be taken up with the Russians at this meeting.

The western generals may decide to take up the city hall riots directly with Sokolovsky. If that were done it would lift the local German political crisis into direct Big Four negotiations.

In London, a British diplomatic source said the western powers are planning a protest. He said it may go either to Sokolovsky or to Moscow.

Crisis Acute
The crisis became acute after a third Communist storming of the city hall yesterday forced the elected city assembly to move to Western Berlin for protection.

Leaders of the SED announced at a news conference they will boycott any further assembly meeting held in West Berlin. This appeared to be a prelude to setting up a separate Red government in the Soviet sector of the city.

The German Socialist press accused the western powers of wailing on their obligations here.

The Communist press charged the anti-Communist administration with "selling out Berlin to the western powers." The Soviet administration's newspaper Tagliche Rundschau said efforts were being made to "make Western Berlin an advance observation post and base of the Truman front."

Charge Disturbing Tactics
The paper also declared attempts were being made to "disturb the Moscow negotiations in the last moment" with "provocations."

A heavy cordon of Russian-backed German police, sprinkled with Soviet military police, has isolated city hall. Everyone leaving is subjected to thorough check as often as three times.

Twenty-seven Western Berlin police still are hidden in city hall after the rival Soviet sector police last night invaded the American liaison office there. They brushed aside a protesting American officer and dragged off 19 Western

Highway Patrol Nabs 9 Drivers

Nine drivers were arrested over the weekend by the state highway patrol for traffic violations and paid fines in the district courts.

George Yakubek, 18, of Canton was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville for reckless operation.

Lloyd Armstrong, 34, of Lisbon was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson of Canfield on a similar charge.

Chester Armolp, 30, of Mt. Holly Springs, Pa., and Leroy Armolp, 36, of Carlisle, Pa., were each fined $5 and costs by Butch for having no mufflers on their motorcycles.

Ida Suchey, 22, of Cleveland was fined $15 and costs by Dickson for speeding.

Howard Gustafson, 18, of Columbiana was fined $15 and costs by Culler on a similar charge.

Albert Borton, 21, of Damascus was fined $5 and costs by Butch for having no muffler on his car.

Roy Dickson, 21, of R. D. 4, Salem was fined $5 and costs by Dickson for a stop sign violation.

Patrolmen were stationed at each of the downtown corners to speed the movement of cars. The four downtown traffic lights were synchronized to allow the lines to move all the way through the four-block section.

Having It Both Ways

High prices are on issue in the national campaign. But only the most naive voters will believe that the issue is as simple as most politicians say it is.

On one hand is public resentment of high prices. Both major parties and the splinter groups will try to capitalize this resentment in their favor.

But on the other hand is the fact that high prices merely reflect everything that has been done intentionally and unintentionally to make them that way. The Truman administration has been a strong contributor to their height and claims credit for the high wages and agricultural prosperity that inflation has produced. Republican critics of the administration, looking ahead to the problems of the next few years if Governor Dewey is elected, dread the possibility of a sudden collapse of prices. They want price stabilization, not wholesale reduction of price levels.

Economists are squirming on the anxious seat because they are afraid bumper crops and increasing industrial productivity may produce a slump. Politicians, borrowing anxiety from the economists, are far more apprehensive that prices may sag suddenly than they are about present levels of inflation. Even among the public at large, grumbling about price levels that seem unreasonably high, there is an increasing awareness that sudden price reductions would knock the props from under high employment, high wages and high profits.

During the campaign, debaters of the price issue will try to have it both ways. They will condemn prices for being too high and try to fix the blame. But at the same time they will be hoping that prices do not go too low.

Fight To The Finish

A West coast maritime strike under the leadership of Harry Bridges is off to a violent start. Both strikers and employers seem to be in the mood for a showdown.

A statement by the waterfront employees association explains what is behind the employers' mood. It says that for 14 years its members have been dealing with strikes, disruptions and chaos resulting from leadership in maritime unions following the Communist party line. Bridges has been accused by the federal government itself, in deportation proceedings, of being a member of the party. He and some of the other leaders in the newest strike have not signed the non-Communist affidavits required by the Taft-Hartley act of union executives desiring to share in the benefits of the act. The reasonable assumption is that they don't dare to sign the affidavits lest they perjure themselves.

The situation in maritime unions, like that in all other unions whose leadership is suspected of loyalty to the international conspiracy of Communism, is by no means academic. It is as practical as the certainty that Communist-dominated unions would be hotbeds of disloyalty to the United States in the event of war with Russia. The same thing that happened before Germany attacked the Soviet union in World war II would happen again. Workers inside the United States would be betrayed by leadership playing power politics with American labor unions. The barn door should be locked before the horse is stolen.

Dream Houses

A survey of 458 women keeping house in four public housing projects in New York City revealed what should have been pretty obvious, that there is vastly more to adequate housing than shelter, heat and modern conveniences. The women wanted more space.

This brings to mind a story of a typical experience in housing. A key man in a new industrial development was telling a real estate agent what kind of a house he wanted. He specified that it should be old-fashioned, preferably with high ceilings. "I will put up with all the old-fashioned inconveniences," he explained, "because I am raising a family and can't do it properly in a pint-sized modern home."

All recent developments in home construction have had a tendency to minimize the fundamental convenience of space. Yet in the long run it is space that most people want most. Their dream houses are not tiny and efficient but rambling and comfortable. The upshot of a housing drive that puts too many human beings in cramped quarters, on the assumption that all they need is shelter, heat and modern conveniences, may be a net increase in the nation's desire for more adequate housing.

Ill-Starred Statesman

The death of Eduard Benes marks the passing of one of the last remaining figures to rise to prominence in the international re-adjustments after World war I.

Only 30 at the war's start, he became the lieutenant of Thomas G. Masaryk in the campaign to free his homeland of the Hapsburg yoke. As Czechoslovakia's first foreign minister, he was his country's representative to the League of Nations. He was an idealist but a realist, too; hence his part in bringing Romania and Yugoslavia into the little entente with Czechoslovakia.

Following Masaryk's retirement in 1935, Benes became president. His was an ill-starred tenure, however. First the Nazis and now the Russians have deprived his beloved country of the freedom he so adroitly sought for it. He has died a broken man not long after the mysterious death of Jan Masaryk, his mentor's son. The circumstances surrounding Benes' own death are just as tragic, although not so spectacular.

Many people thirst for travel, but likely not as many as travel for thirst.

It's always easy to figure what you should have said right after it's too late to say it.

WHILE there are stubborn obstacles, delays, difficulties and perhaps static or congested situations to confront and sturdily turn into constructive channels, there is sign of aid for this. Not only individual acumen, shrewd and deep analysis of impediments, but the personal element, could be manipulated to advantage. Outside influence, probably of feminine, domestic or social interest, could be depended upon. Friendly collaboration from such source may be prudently resorted to, even in business troubles, but with courtesy and tact.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves able to rise above restrictions, impediments and crystallized conditions, largely by tactful and judicious employment of the personal abilities, and sustained and encouraged by social, domestic, feminine influence. Depressions and limitation, low spirits, could be pleasantly routed by the use of individual talents, skills or ideas, but with the use of purely personal appeal playing an important part in breaking down barriers and winning against odds. A child born on this day while needing to fall back on its personal courage, determination and talents, may overcome obstacles by judicious use of its social or professional prestige.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

MR. TRUMAN neglected to say how long a fellow had to be married to escape the draft . . . there is grave danger here of double jeopardy.

But we should salute the courage of those who have rushed into matrimony without even waiting for basic training.

It goes to show that American youth not only is fearless but even a little foolhardy.

But if it turns out that a recent marriage doesn't count, a number of girls are going to be left waiting . . . this time at the draft board.

I knew a fellow who married to escape the draft . . . then he enlisted to escape his wife.

Then he was discharged and sent home and he has since been picketing army recruiting headquarters with a sign reading "This Place Unfair."

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

An Alarming, Serious Symptom

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
BLOOD in the urine is always a very serious symptom and one which demands immediate investigation by a physician to determine its cause. I want to emphasize this important examination by a physician because the condition has been known to occur in people who seemed to be in excellent general health and, for that reason, has been disregarded and considered of little consequence. The bleeding may be due to a large variety of conditions. For example, it may come from some disturbance of the blood itself, such as hemophilia, scurvy or purpura, and conditions in which there is some interference with normal blood clotting.

Certain Infections

Blood may appear in the urine in certain infections, such as typhoid fever, malaria or scarlet fever, or it may come from infections near the urinary tract, such as appendicitis. Certain drugs may cause blood to appear in the urine, including the sulfonamide drugs and dicumarol.

In addition to these cases, there may be some disturbances, such as an infection or the presence of a stone in the urethra which leads from the bladder to the surface. Also, some disorder of the bladder may be present, such as a kidney stone, ulcer or infection, or there may be a tumor growth in the kidney or of the ureter which leads from the kidney to the bladder.

When blood appears in the urine, it is necessary to find the area from which the blood is coming, as well as the abnormal condition which is producing it. In most instances, the bleeding is due to some actual disorder of the urinary tract.

Special tests may be necessary to determine the cause for the bleeding. X-rays of the kidney, ureter and bladder may be taken by injecting certain substances into a vein or muscle. These substances are extracted by the kidney and make the structure of the urinary tract visible in the X-ray plate.

An examination with a cystoscope (an instrument composed of a tube and a light which makes it possible for the doctor to look directly into the bladder) is important in aiding in the diagnosis of blood in the urine.

Vital Concern

Blood in the urine when due to a tumor present in the bladder or kidneys should be of vital concern. Some of these tumors are not serious, while others may be extremely dangerous. Hence, the earlier they are discovered and removed, the better the outlook for the patient.

It is perhaps fortunate that blood in the urine occurs as a warning sign of these tumors, and such a warning sign should never be neglected. It always calls for immediate and thorough study by a doctor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. H. K.: What causes bad breath?
Answer: Bad odor of the breath may come from several things, as infected teeth, bad tonsils or adenoids, or infection of the nose or nasal sinuses. Foul breath may likewise be due to constipation or dyspepsia.

A thorough examination should be made by a physician to determine the cause. When this is found, the condition can be quickly cleared up.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

CROWDS PASS BIER OF EDUARD BENES

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 7.—Mourners filed past the coffin of former President Eduard Benes all through the night and into the morning.

At dawn today the line was nearly four miles long, as factory workers, foregoing sleep, poured in from all over Czechoslovakia.

Up a long hill, the queue moved to the hall of resistance, where Benes' body lies in state until midnight tonight. State funeral rites will be held tomorrow in the hall of fame at the Prague museum. Burial ceremonies will be held tomorrow night at the former president's villa on a hillside in Sedmovo Usti.

Once the groups passed the coffin, they went to a small restaurant where chopped meat and potatoes from UNRRA cans were distributed without ration tickets.

LEETONIANS GREET TEAM

Gridders Guests Thursday At Boosters Club Program

LEETONIA, Sept. 7 — Leetonia residents and the lads who will carry the High school's football colors this year will meet Thursday evening when the football team and its backers gather at the High school.

Lunch is to be served with Mrs. Charles Weidman, school home economics teacher, in charge. She will be assisted by wives of the Leetonia Community Boosters club, and Mrs. Harold Morrow and Mrs. Andrew Mruzik, wives of Leetonia's coaches.

Couch Morrow said the purpose of the affair was to introduce the players to townspeople. He added that the program would be informal. Movies are also to be shown.

Booster club members are hoping that Leetonia folks turn out in great numbers to show their interest in the team.

Labor Day Accident

Only a single accident marred Leetonia's holiday weekend. It occurred early Sunday morning when the cars of J. Davis, R. D. 5, Salem, and Clifford Eyster, Washingtonville, collided on the corner of Chestnut and Main in Leetonia.

Neither driver was charged, according to Marshal Henry Gibson. Police and special guards were busy twice this weekend when they were stationed at every railroad crossing in Leetonia in preparation of the passing of President Truman's special train.

30 At Trapshoot

At the Leetonia Sportsman's club trapshoot Sunday afternoon 30 area men took turns smashing the clay pigeons. The shoot was held at the club's Cherry Valley range.

William Harold, Freeman and Kenneth Tyson were among the high scorers. Refreshments were served.

Willis Pete and the Tysons form the committee for the trapshoots which will be held every other Sunday until further notice. The public is invited to each meet, either as participants or spectators.

Work is underway for the fireplace at the club. Further construction in the Sportsman's program calls for grading and landscaping of the club grounds, and building of trapshooting facilities.

Entertains Club
Miss Martha Lee Weikart entertained 500 club associates at her home Wednesday evening.

Priscilla club of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained at the church parlors Thursday evening with Mrs. Charles Groner as hostess.

Stassen Blasts Truman Administration

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota meets newsmen in the Governor's Mansion in Albany, N. Y., where he is the guest of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Stassen, who will make the GOP presidential campaign "kick-off" speech in Detroit Tuesday, blasted the Truman administration for "deliberately" attempting to keep up the high cost of living.

WESTERN

German police in handcuffs and chains.

A towering Russian major ordered liaison officers of the three western powers to leave the building. The western officers refused and the Russians did not press their demand.

In their invasion of the U. S. office, the police looked through filing cabinets but did not take anything.

Seize Police

The Soviet-licensed German news agency said the 19 seized policemen were taken to criminal police headquarters for a "thorough examination." During the regime of Adolf Hitler this building was used by the Gestapo.

Hourly the prospect grew that final division of Berlin into two cities soon would follow. Forced by Communist-led demonstrators to abandon their chamber, the anti-Communist city council met yesterday in the British sector.

The Communist press accused the deputies of "running away" from "protesting workers" and claimed the meeting was illegal.

Against this background of Communist strong-arm methods, the four military governors were meeting in the Allied control building. After a week of negotiations they still were seeking to find a solution to the 76-day-old Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Plan Williams Rites

YOUNGSTOWN Sept. 7 — Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Joseph F. Williams, 66, a lawyer and member of the Mahoning county election board, who died late Sunday of a heart ailment.

Williams was active in Republican political circles here for the past 40 years. Two daughters survive.

"Interested-in-YOU" Service

THE philosophy of this Prescription Pharmacy may be summed up in our considered belief that you are the most important person in our world. Your wishes, your needs, your prescription, have our undiverted attention from the moment you pass that fragment of mystic prescription over to our side of the counter.

Here you observe in actual daily practice a type of simple, sincere, "interested-in-YOU" service. It's service that is dedicated to your welfare all the way from the selection and careful compounding of pure ingredients to the final price tag.

Yes, admittedly, it is a selfish service which we give. For we know that only by serving you ably and honorably can we hope to build for us an enduring place in this community.

We invite you to test the facilities of this Pharmacy of "Prescription Specialists" in any practical manner. By all means, do ask your Physician about us.

Carolyn Dimit Of Alliance Is Bride Of Jay L. Hanna

Climaxing a romance at Mt. Union college, Alliance, Miss Carolyn Dimit of Alliance and Jay L. Hanna of Salem were married at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in an open church ceremony in the Alliance Union Avenue Methodist church.

Miss Fern Miller, church organist, offered the musical prelude, including "I Love You Truly," "Always," "O Promise Me," "Intermezzo" and "Oh Perfect Love," with which she used the new church hymns. She also accompanied Mrs. Milton Rubright, who sang "Because," "I Love Thee" and "Through The Years."

The bridegroom, who is a member of the church, was escorted by the bride, while Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

During the ceremony the organist played "Liebestraum."

Baskets of white gladioli and pom-poms, palms and ferns flanked the altar, which was lighted by white

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 35 and 50 and going through that trying functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!

Many wise "middle-age" women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.

Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

COLUMBIANA PARK LEVY SUBMITTED

Voters To Pass On Issue
In November for Operating Expenses

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 7.—Columbiana municipal officials have certified to the Columbiana county board of elections a resolution asking a vote on a one-mill current expense levy for peak maintenance. Repairs to the roof of Firestone park bath house and other incidentals in connection with the park will entail some extra expense. Holloway & Son's dry goods store will be closed the first four days of this week to complete modernization of its interior. There will be a formal opening Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, the first evening of the annual three-day street fair. The first floor has been refinished and refurnished. Leo Holloway and son, David, are the proprietors of the store, which was established in 1875 by Leonard Holloway grandfather of the senior member of the present firm. New Organ Installed The new Hammond organ purchased by the congregation of the Christian church was used Sunday morning for the first time. Jerry Renkenberger of Salem was guest organist. Niland Herbkersman of Columbiana has enrolled as a student in a

Los Angeles school for magicians. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herbkersman, South Pearl street. Boosters to Plan Season Plans for the football season will be made at the September meeting of the Booster club, Thursday evening at 8 in Pavilion 4, Firestone park. The winter sports program will also be considered.

Green Puts Price Raises To Industry

AKRON, Sept. 7.—The cold truth, says AFL President William Green, is that industry is setting prices at whatever the traffic will bear. At the same time he told an AFL rally yesterday it is attempting to lay the blame on labor. "For every wage increase, prices are boosted far out of proportion to the additional labor costs," Green asserted. "The process is rapidly bringing about a maldistribution of income and a dangerous shrinkage in the real purchasing power of wage income. If such conditions are allowed to continue unchecked, our national economy will inevitably crash and a major depression will result." Green and Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin spoke in a meeting at Summit Park beach sponsored by the Tri-County Building and Construction Trades council and the Trades and Labor Assembly. Tobin, who also spoke at a CIO picnic at Chippewa Lake park near

"Let our keynote for this Labor day of 1948 be 'use your vote,'" he added. Sweet-potato starch of superior quality can be produced in four hours as against the 72 required at present, by a new process. of the American working man, but even for our democratic institutions of free labor and free enterprises." A crowd estimated at 120,000 gathered in Detroit's Cadillac square to hear Mr. Truman. The President said in advance he had been told it would be disappointing if 300,000 failed to appear. There and in his other Michigan appearances — at Grand Rapids, Lansing, Hamtramck, and Flint — Mr. Truman got off such digs at the Republicans as: "The boom is for them and the bust is for you." "They failed to crack down on prices but they cracked down on labor." "They voted themselves a cut in taxes and voted you a cut in freedom." Mr. Truman called the Taft-Hartley act a "dangerous weapon in the hands of the corporations." In his seventh and final speech at Toledo, Ohio, last night enroute back to Washington, the President said he plans to visit "every whistle stop in the United States" during his campaign. Mr. Truman and the Democrats had the spotlight largely to themselves yesterday. This prompted a statement from Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath that: "The absence of GOP speakers at Labor day rallies served to underline the fact that the Republican party has declared war on a large and powerful segment of the American population." Secretary of Agriculture Brannan reopened his feud with Stassen in a speech at Fribault, Minn. Noting that the former Minnesota governor had accused Brannan last week of trying to keep food prices high, the secretary said he wonders whether Stassen "is getting ready to lobby for a Taft-Hartley act for farmers."

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

Watching the Salem Quakers work out against the Massillon Tigers last Friday brought a lot of things to mind, and certainly should have impressed the Salem lads with a few essential lessons about football.

In the first place it was gratifying to see the upgrowth of spirit that rose in the Quaker ranks in the afternoon scrimmage after a poor showing against the Tigers in the morning session.

When Salem arrived at the Massillon camp it was fairly obvious to all—including the Salem coaches—that the local boys were just a bit on the shaky side. They feared the Massillon name and certainly showed it in the first workout. But after they had taken a crack or two at the Tiger defense and had seen the Orange and Black boys run past them a few times, they suddenly seemed to realize that, after all, the Massillon kids were just High school boys, too.

With the edge worn off, things changed in the afternoon. Salem's offense clicked just as effectively against Massillon as it has in scrimmages here. The passes fooled the Tigers and pulled them out of position. The trap play off tackle was good for five, six and more yards time and time again.

And so it wasn't long before Salem knew it was equal to its foe, regardless of the name. The Quakers didn't make Massillon look bad, no more thing. But hey did equal everything the Tigers had to offer in that later scrimmage. And it should do them a lot of good.

Now there should be no awestricken players on the field when Warren faces Salem in the preview Friday. Names like East Liverpool, Canton, Timken, Cleveland, Marshall and other teams of great repute shouldn't mean quite so much now. It's a lesson that may well pay dividends all year long.

Another interesting and educational angle the local players probably soaked up at the Tiger training camp has to do with just how hard some grid teams have to work before that first game.

The fare here at home should look easy after Beach City's camp experience. Chuck Mather has been going on football hammer and tong since he moved to Massillon last June. The boys started their official drills Aug. 20.

The camp idea is an innovation at Massillon and Mather had to battle some to get it just the way he wanted it. The schedule for the players is back-breaking and jammed full of football.

Each morning the squad of 60, supervised by five of the Tiger coaches who stay right at camp, turns out at 6:30 a. m. and runs two miles cross country before breakfast. After the morning meal, the team is busy from 8:30 until about 10 with a skill session, at which Mather drills plays, defenses and the finer points of both into the players verbally.

Following the skill work, Carl "Ducky" Schroeder, a former head coach here and now assistant to Mather, conducts the calisthenics for about a half hour. Then comes the morning practice on the field. After dinner at 12:30, the lads take turns with the kitchen duty and then report on the practice field at 2:30 for drilling until about 5 or 5:30. The afternoon affair usually winds up with a hard scrimmage.

In the evening, after another meal and kitchen duty, the charges are herded around a movie projector and watch films of past Massillon games. The details of opponents' offenses, defenses and mistakes are drilled in by showing the film over and over.

It's a lengthy, tedious and painstaking procedure, this football boot camp. It's more grueling than Salem's practice schedule and apparently most of the Quaker players realized that Friday.

Mather has four assistants at his camp with him. Three others are in Massillon working with Junior High squads.

The training camp idea is a fine one and could be put to good use in Salem. Mather's set-up involves taking the boys away for a full week of the training prior to the opening of school. The Ohio High School Association rules stipulate that camps are legal after Sept. 1 each year.

The idea is not new, but it's coming back into use after several years of banning by the OHSAA. Mansfield has a variation not quite as extensive as Massillon's.

The Mansfield Boosters club has provided funds to give the squad a noon and evening training table from Aug. 20 until the opening of school. This system engages Coach Augie Morningstar to be with his team from 8 a. m. each day until almost bed-time.

The team in Mansfield is fed at the High school cafeteria twice each day and skill sessions and movies keep the boys well occupied between the actual work on the practice field.

Football, especially in Ohio High schools, is fast becoming more and more of a science and less the pure power and grunt game it used to be. It now requires a lot more concentration and training on the part of the youngsters playing it. It involves more concentration and individual work on the part of the coaches coaching it.

Barrett Nearly Decided On Varsity Positions

Expects To Use 2 Frosh, Several Sophomores Among First String Men Friday

With less than a week to prepare for the preview contest with the Warren Harding High Presidents, Coach Ben Barrett says his Quaker grid hopefuls are in for a hard, busy three days of final practice.

Barrett, pleased but certainly not content after a good showing by his squad against Massillon's Tigers last week, plans a scrimmage session this afternoon against Leetonia at Leetonia and then two days of after-school work on fundamentals.

Coach Ben, optimistically working toward the opening of his sixth season as Salem High grid mentor, has his varsity fairly well in mind now, but cautions that some changes may be made before the Friday workout against Warren at the Niles preview.

"A lot depends, of course, on whether Walt Ehrhart and Ray Yeager are completely recovered from injuries," Barrett says. The two were hurt in practice last week and might not make the grade by this Friday's trial. Barrett expects them to be ready, however.

Until now Barrett has been non-committal about just who he felt the first eleven might include. Now his reticence is somewhat weakened and after the drills last week, plus the scrimmage sessions against Niles and Massillon, he feels he is fairly sure of who the boys are who are really producing.

Oddly enough, so early in the year, Barrett is going to be counting on the services of a couple of Freshmen and at least two or three Sophomores for varsity chores.

He is planning to use Freshman Bill Pasco, a 180-pounder, at a guard on offense and probably as a line backer on defense. Also slated for action, in his work remains as good as it has been, is Fred Csepke, another Frosh lad of 203 pounds and a lot of battle.

Csepke probably will get the call as defensive left tackle, alternating that spot with Walt Hank, who will work mostly on offense.

At the ends, where graduation left Barrett cleaned out of Sophomores Jay England and Fritz Roth are currently the ranking men.

Joe Alessi, whose work Barrett likes very much as an end, may prove more valuable right now at right guard. If he should find his guards strong enough without using them without using Alessi there, Barrett expects to shift the Sophomore back to an end job.

Kenny Zeigler, 194 pound Senior letterman at right tackle, has his job well in hand and will probably get most of the work on both defense and offense. Zeigler is showing a lot of spirit and power and Barrett expects him to fill the bill most of the way.

The center proposition is not shaping up as well as the coach anticipated a week or two ago. Kenny Schrom, a Senior at about 165, is No. 1 candidate now but he shows a lumbering Youngs Sunday at Lake Placencia, winning out on the first of a planned two-day holiday weekend schedule. The Monday game was rained out.

The Dodgers banged out nine hits in compiling their winning margin and held the Columbiana club scoreless for six innings. One run in the seventh was the only threat the Youngs managed.

Art Maley, Altohouse hurler, allowed but three hits and issued no free passes, a creditable performance.

TRIBE MUST PLAY LIKE SUPERMEN TO WIN PENNANT

Boudreau's Own Figures Puts Clubs' Hopes Almost Out of Reach

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—On Lou Boudreau's own figures, the Cleveland Indians will have to play out the rest of the season like possessed supermen to win the pennant.

And the league-leading Boston Red Sox, at the same time, must sag to around 500 baseball—not to mention the New York Yankees.

The Indians were back home today for a two-week stadium stand, 4½ games out of first place. The first game at Chicago yesterday was won by the White Sox, 3 to 2, representing the third straight loss by the Indians. Bob Feller came through in the second with a 1 to 0 win—his 15th of the season. It was called at the end of the seventh inning because of darkness.

Cleveland outlasted Chicago in the first game, 10 to 7, but failed to cash in on a promising looking sixth inning. In that one they got only one run because a hard hit ball looked like a triple by Kenney Keltner was speared by Dave Philley the fast centerfielder.

Had he failed to catch it, the run total in that inning would have been three instead. Again in the ninth, the Indians filled the bases with two out on three singles but Joe Tipton, pinch hitting for Larry Doby, fanned.

Gene Bearden was the loser and Joe Haynes, the winner.

Feller allowed only three hits, all singles, in the second game and the loss went to Gumpert.

BEN HOGAN ADDS RENO OPEN WIN

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7.—Ben Hogan, who has been winning golf tournaments with almost monotonous regularity, added the $25,000 Reno open today to his list of notable achievements of the year.

He wrapped up the lucrative event yesterday with a score of 269, nineteen under par for 72 holes. The victory was worth $3,500 first prize money, plus additional cash for leading the first and third rounds as well as being the P.G.A. champion.

The straight-shooter from Hershey, Pa., paid his caddie, George

THINGS LOOKING UP FOR CHICAGO'S ROCKETS; WIN 42-7

While things were looking up for the Buffalo Bills in the All-America Football conference today, they looked as black as ever for Chicago's powerless Rockets.

The Bills squared their season record at 1-1 yesterday when they stormed through, around, and over the Rockets for a 42 to 7 victory at Buffalo. The Rockets were helpless against the six-touchdown onslaught, except when the Bills eased up in the final quarter.

Buffalo scored two touchdowns in each of the first three periods as George Ratterman went into his star passing act and Julie Rykovich slashed through the Chicago line. Rykovich crossed the Rocket goal line three times and Chet Murray, Chuck Schuetz, and Dewey Proctor scored the other TD's. Graham Armstrong kicked all six conversions.

The Bills lost their opening game to San Francisco last week, 35 to 14. For the Rockets it was the second straight loss.

WALT HILTBRAND WINS TITLE IN SATURDAY MATCH

Defeats Sommers One Up; Twing Seeds Wins 2nd Flight Championship

Walt Hiltbrand pocketed the coveted top flight championship of the Salem Golf club Saturday afternoon by edging out always dangerous Gene Sommers one up after a 36-hole match.

Twing Seeds, finalist in the second flight of the same tournament, copped the No. 2 club title by edging Glenn Harding two up in an 18-hole affair. The championship of the third flight is yet to be settled, a match to decide yet to be played between Roy Yeager and Dr. Fred Crowe.

Hiltbrand's sizzling season was climaxed by a 41-38-7 Saturday, when he managed to edge Sommers, despite equal scoring by the runnerup. Hiltbrand went into the final 18 Saturday three up, having bested Sommers by that margin in the first round last week.

Hiltbrand's title is his first, but his game has been among the best at the club for several years. He replaces Rudy Schuster as club champion. Schuster being eliminated in the early rounds of the no-handsicap battling.

The club's Labor day flag tournament was postponed yesterday because rain at about 11:45 interrupted most of the entries before the 18-hole grind could be completed.

Although no definite decision has been reached, Pro Andy Mccarty said the flag tourney may be replayed on a later date, possibly this coming weekend. Only a few four-somes managed to finish before the rain Monday, Mccarty said.

The women of the club will observe the customary Ladies day today with a flag tournament scheduled. The flag event winds up the women's season.

Mrs. Greenawalt is survived by her husband, Joseph, and two brothers, Homer Johnston of Salem, and Norman Johnston of Texas.

Alliance Woman's Injuries Probed

COLUMBUS, Sept. 7.—A 25-year-old Alliance woman was found nude and in a semi-conscious condition today in the bathtub of her downtown hotel room, police reported.

Patrolmen Clark Baker and William Throp identified her as Miss Linda Stine, 25, of 749 South Union ave., Alliance.

They said she told this story: After visiting her sister, Gertrude Stine, 122 Kins ave., Columbus yesterday, she returned to her Deshler-Wallick hotel room to meet four friends she planned to return to Alliance with.

She was offered a drink, accepted, became unconscious and came to with one of the persons—she didn't know which one—attempting to choke her.

A maid found her lying in the EQUIPMENT STRIKE MAY HIT BELL CO.

Nationwide Dispute May Interrupt System In 43 States Sept. 17

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The CIO Association of Communication equipment workers today set Sept. 17 for a strike which it said would cripple telephone service over the nation.

Announcement of the strike date was made by Dan Harris, Portland, Ore., vice president of the union. He said negotiations between the union and the Western Electric Manufacturing Company are deadlocked.

Harris said the strike would pull out 25,000 members of the union working in 2,200 Bell Telephone Company locations in 43 of the 48 states.

The five states where the union does not operate are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Montana.

Harris said the dispute is over wages and working conditions. The union is demanding a 15 cents an hour increase across the board. The company, he said, has stood pat on its offer of eight cents. Wages of union members now range from 88 cents to $1.54 an hour.

Negotiations have been going on intermittently since May 11, Harris reported. Union members approved a strike to enforce their demands on July 1, he said.

Lisbon Schools Open

LISBON, Sept. 7.—David Anderson high school, which opened officially this morning, reported an enrollment of 389 students.

Other enrollments included 340 at Lincoln grade school and 290 at McKinley grade school.

County rural schools indicated about 4,000 students enrolled, according to Supt. W. E. Roberts.

bathtub, Baker and Throp reported. Miss Stine was taken to University hospital, where she was treated for multiple bruises on her legs and right arm. Baker and Throp said there was no evidence of criminal assault.

The detective bureau began an investigation.

Found in Cabin

MISSING from her Binghampton, N. Y., home for 17 months, Margaret Bleecker is shown after being found in a backwoods cabin near Hibbing, Minn. Police discovered the child while investigating a fire in which a woman died and a man was critically injured. Margaret had been living with them. New York police believed the couple to be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carroll, who disappeared from Binghampton in April, 1947. They took with them the child who had been entrusted to their care by Mr. and Mrs. George Bleecker. (International)

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

STOMACH GAS
SOOR FOOD TASTE
ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this and other stomach troubles.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, lousy, fretful, nervous, irritable condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have found positive proof that this food is amazingly effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty and to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the fact that this formula which contains special and potent active ingredients.

Also, this food helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutrient gastric acid and other vital elements. Avoid purchasing "secret" pills and "miraculous" gas and bloating when you can get relief from this food. It is the only "secret" that will give you the happy, sound, and contented feeling of a normal, healthy stomach. Get this food today. It's the only food that will give you the relief you need.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—Watching a naked child crawl out of the ocean is like seeing the world being born all over again.

I learned about babies from Michael, who loves life, belly laughs and the sea.

No wonder the population of the world is growing. I can understand now the reason most people would rather raise babies than dogs, cats, hollyhocks or hares. Michael taught me.

For two vacation weeks we shared a bungalow in the sand dunes with Michael. Thoughtfully, since he isn't yet 15 months old, he brought along his parents, Mary and John Crosby. John is the well known radio critic.

I don't know one end of a diaper from the other (Editor's note: Who does?), but Michael really heir-conditioned our vacation. The next time Frances and I go to the seashore I think I will rent a baby for the outing. They are more company than the seagulls.

Babies nowadays generally come in three sizes—wrigglers, crawlers, and wobblers.

Michael, so far as I could tell, had only one real problem: Whether to stay a crawler or become a wobbler, that is, a baby able to explore the world on his feet instead of his hands and knees.

So far he has postponed the decision.

I think I came to love Michael because he was the most completely honest human being I have met in years. There was no hypocrisy in his baby gobbledygook. He was completely true to the inner man. He laughed only when he was happy. He complained only when he was sleepy, hungry or kept from eating glass ashtrays.

There are two types of babies—the ones that try to entertain grownups, and those who graciously permit the grownups to entertain them. Of the latter was Michael, judicious and critical beyond his months.

The only thing he never wearied of was the Atlantic ocean. Twice a day, stripped of his longcloth and bare as the moment he came crying into the world, he went crawling into the sea. Envious adults all along the beach came to watch him. The surf was a wet cool wonderland to him. Unwatched, he would have scuttled right on down with the crabs on the sea floor where we all lived long ago. When a wave lapped at him, Michael's face split in a sunburst of glee that showed all his teeth at once—four white pearls in a red cave of laughter.

But trying to hold Michael's attention on land was another matter. It was necessary to invent a new game every day. After that it was old stuff.

One morning I had the hiccoughs. Each burp brought gales of laughter from the baby. Early next morning when this traveling alarm clock crawled in to awaken me, I faked a loud hiccough. My reward was a look from Michael that said more clearly than words:

"Grow up, kid. I laughed at that one yesterday."

And he scuttled off to gnaw at an ashtray.

Each dawn I failed to greet him with a new sound or trick Michael would go back to the ashtray or bang a door shut on his finger, and sit howling to be rescued. I taught him one word—"ceiling"—by holding him up to touch it. But he even wouldn't look up when I tried the same thing in the kitchen. He was stubbornly sure the ceiling was only in the living room, where we first played the game.

I also taught him to shake hands. When I left, however, he wouldn't even wave his tiny paw to say "bye bye." He was tired of those games, too.

I guess it's just as well. I'll never forget those wonderful two weeks of being educated by a baby, a baby who has forgotten me already. But I'd just as soon be forgotten as have him remember me only as the man who taught him to hold out a hand to people he never wanted to meet or wave it goodbye to friends he never wanted to part from.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

THAT WAS a vastly encouraging statement which General Douglas MacArthur issued in Tokyo on the third anniversary of Japan's surrender in the Great War.

The general declared that Japan is equipped with the moral weapons "to repel the totalitarian advance." And he went on to link Nippon with the new south Korean republic and with the republic of the Philippines in "a triangular buttress" for democracy in Asia.

Freely interpreted this strikes me as meaning there is unity of purpose between the Oriental trio and the United States. And to these three I think we must add China, whose spirit is willing though her flesh be weak.

General MacArthur confined his remarks to moral values, but your columnist for one finds it difficult not to expand the thought to include military considerations. After all, the Orient is seething with turmoil, and if there is another world war it most certainly will encompass that part of the globe—indeed it might well start there.

HOWEVER, since we have no intention of trying to read MacArthur's mind, or put words into his mouth, let's analyze this Far Eastern situation ourselves from the military angle. I'll bet a shiny new sixpence he has done it more than once, and it would be worth while to know what he thinks.

Japan and the Philippines not only are buttresses for democracy in the ideological sense, but they would be vital both for offense and defense in event of war with Russia. Japan was the pivot on which the Allied fortunes turned in the last war, and it was she who deprived us of the Philippines and other essential bases at the outset. That won't happen again.

As for the Korean peninsula ("a dagger pointed at the heart of Japan"), it is of course one of the world's highly strategic positions. So long as it remains under American military occupation it is a bastion in democracy's defense. However, it lies under the muzzles of Russia's big guns and it is given to wonder whether the U. S. high command would choose to defend southern Korea in event of global war. There is such a thing as spreading your forces out too thin, you know.

STILL, while the loss of Korea would be serious, the combination of Japan and the Philippines would provide a mighty defense, as our experience in the last war fully demonstrated. Moreover, General Mac-

Arthur's statement would seem to encourage the belief that Japan not only would be available as a "bastion" for democracy but that she would in fact be an ally of the western powers. That is to say, Nippon not only would be used for a base but she would participate actively in the war.

Why all this talk about another world war? No special significance in it. Everybody knows by this time that there is danger of war. Still there is no present indication of any major explosion in the near future. Since it is clear that neither the democracies nor the Soviet bloc want war, and are trying to avoid it, we are safe in assuming that if conflict does come soon it will be due to "spontaneous combustion"—something which neither side foresees.

War as a far distant possibility is another proposition. But why cross far distant bridges when there are so many close ones to go over first?

As regards the near future, belief that Japan and the Philippines would be on the side of the democracies certainly would make Moscow tread circumspectly.

Building Keeps Steady Pace During AugustHOME OF THE MONTH

No. 28

Ultra-modern without losing its practical functions or appearing bizarre, this house sprawls pleasantly on city lot or suburban acres. Interesting treatment of porch screening is repeated in open wall of carport, and the egg-crate motif is also apparent in the full-length window at dining end of living room area.

Two bedrooms are cushioned against noise by closet-walls, hallway and bath, while third bedroom which corners on porch and living room can double as a den and accommodate guests conveniently. Bathroom closet has ample room for linens. Rear entrance is through carport and kitchen, and there is a large storage wall at end of carport which gives extra protection to the car, storage space for tools and equipment.

Living and dining are combined in one large room opening onto a generous size porch which can be used for outdoor dining and relaxation during pleasant weather. Screened in summer, porch can be glazed in cooler climates if desired.

Selected as a prize "Practical Miracle Home" by PRACTICAL BUILDER Magazine, this house was designed by Talbot Wilson of Houston, Texas.

Porcelain-Enameled Houses Are On the Way

COLUMBUS, Sept. 7—The Lustron Corporation, having installed $12,500,000 worth of equipment, today began the manufacture of porcelain-enameled steel houses.

Lustron began moving into the former Curtis-Wright airplane plant on March 1.

Carl G. Standlund, president, said production would be limited to one or two houses a week in the early stages, but by Dec. 1 the company planned to hit a peak rate of 45,000 houses a year.

The five-room houses will sell for about $8,000 each, erected but exclusive of lot, he said.

Penguins cannot fly, but undoubtedly are descended from birds that could fly.

BUILDING PERMIT RECORDS REVEAL $168,000 OUTLAY

During August building permits obtained from Mayor Robert Johnson showed more than $168,000, collectively, in construction estimates.

The First Baptist church building program led all other estimates. Expenses in excess of $133,000 are expected by the church trustees.

Permits were issued for three new dwellings last month. Edward Gillett, will build a home at 461 W. Fourth which will cost approximately $5,000. W. K. Park's home at 981 Home Circle was estimated at $10,000; and W. J. Handlik's home at 1088 E. Ninth st. will be $6,000.

Other Improvements
Permits were given to Carl Hiltbrand, 663 Fair, for $2,000 to re-side; to Michael Pauline, 690 Summit, for $150 dwelling repairs; P. B. Myers, 652 Perry, for $200 dwelling alterations; A. H. Stratton, 615 E. Seventh, for $600 to re-side dwelling and garage; J. E. Baker, 813 W. Pershing, $400 for dwelling repairs; and John Hutter, 630 Euclid, for $700 to re-side his dwelling.

Other garages that received work last month were those of J. H. Benson, 999 Franklin st., $250; H. A. Deffenzo, 258 E. Eighth, $150; and Mintie Ray, 603 Euclid, who estimated $250 for garage repairs.

Permits were issued for three industrial and commercial building projects during August. R. C. Mason approximated charges at $4,000 for his building at 585 S. Lincoln. For Nick Buta's building at 424 E. Pershing, repairs were estimated at $550. The Club shop addition at 653 Franklin st. will cost $4,000, according to permit applicant, Mrs. John Detell.

Well, here's a tender and crusty answer.

Picnic Basket Chicken (Serves 6)

One young chicken, 3 to 4 pounds, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup flour (about), 1/4 cup butter or other shortening, 1/4 cup milk or cream, 1 round loaf of bread, 1/2 cup butter or fortified margarine, melted, 1/4 teaspoonful garlic salt, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

After chicken is cleaned disjoint it and with a sharp cleaver cut into uniform pieces. Mix together salt, pepper and flour. Dip pieces of chicken into flour and brown in butter or shortening. Place browned chicken in well-greased two-quart heat-resistant glass casserole. Pour butter over chicken; add milk or cream. Cover casserole and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour or until chicken is tender. In meantime, slice top off round loaf of bread and scoop out center with fork. Spread inside of loaf with melted butter or margarine to which garlic salt and chopped parsley have been added. Place whole loaf in oven with chicken to heat thoroughly without browning, for about 15 to 20 minutes. When chicken is tender, lift out carefully and pack into the hot bread shell. Cover with hot bread slice; wrap in wax paper, not too tightly. Place in picnic basket. Cover lightly with towel. Do not wrap tightly or bread will steam and soften. Serve chicken first, then pull bread apart and serve as an accompaniment.

Baked Lamb Chops (Serves 6)

Six leg or shoulder lamb chops, 2 inches thick, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 green pepper, cut in rings, 1 large onion, 1 lemon, sliced, 2 cups tomato juice, water-cress.

Brown chops in hot fat in frying pan. Season with salt and pepper. Place in a three-quart casserole. On top of each chop place a green pepper ring, an onion slice and a slice of lemon. Pour tomato juice over chops. Cover casserole and bake slowly in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 1/2 hours. Remove cover, garnish with watercress and serve from casserole.

The normal temperature of most birds is between 104 and 108 degrees.

Labor-Savers Make Home Snug, Shining

By KAY SHERWOOD

A battery of new labor-savers promises to help Mrs. America put her house in snug and shining order before the first chill winds of autumn blow.

Thanks to new glass fiber weather-stripping, for example, Mrs. A. can plug up cracks around windows, doors and baseboards implemented by only a kitchen knife. In this weather-stripping, glass fibers are pressed together into a soft, pliable half-inch wide rope. All Mrs. A. needs to do in order to seal up a crack is to push the rope in place with the back of a knife. The glass strip is impervious to moisture, cannot rot and offers no food to pests.

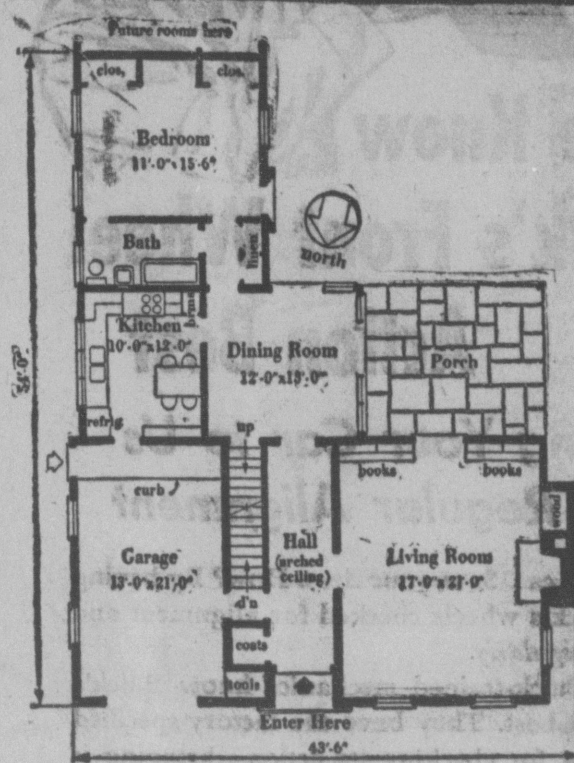

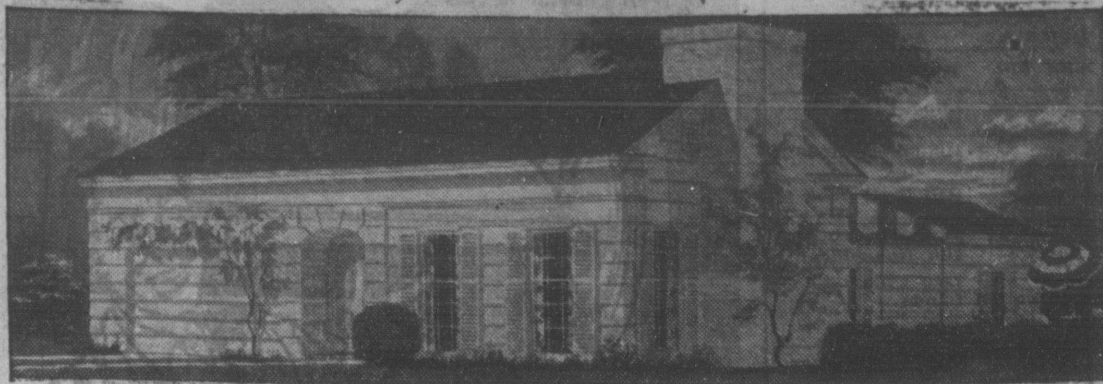

Patching up cracks in the cement floors of a basement, porch or garage with a minimum of muss and effort is the job assigned to cement packaged in a 20-pound bag, which is sufficient for many minor repairs, needs only the addition of water and a stirring stick and it is set for patch-work.

On her round of pre-autumn repairs, Mrs. A. can take the squeak out of stairways or beds, tighten wobbly balusters, chair or table rungs with one small bottle of a resinous chemical preparation. A few drops of this liquid is squirted into a wood joint or socket with an oilcan or eyedropper or it may be applied with the sponge applicator on the bottle. The liquid swells up wood fibers, locking the squeaky stair tread or rung securely into its socket.

With a miniature electric buffer in her hand, all that a housewife has to do in order to shine up household wood surfaces is to touch the starting trigger and guide the device. This four-pound midgelet which comes equipped with a lamb's wool buffer whirled over furniture or floors to coax out a gloss which only hours of hand rubbing could duplicate. Discs for sanding wood before refinishing the surface are also packaged with this appliance.

Glass and metal surfaces—mirrors, glass-topped tables, windows, porcelain-enameled fixtures—take on a long-lasting sparkle when coated with a specially formulated wax. Wax, wiped on with a soft cloth, forms an invisible film which protects the finish. This glossy

Little Classic

Here is a little house with a classic, unhurried spirit—a house for those who mind their manners and sometimes like a touch of formality. The house, as featured in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, is bright, original, and very elegant. It lends itself readily to additional rooms.

Longer Evenings Enjoyed With Illuminated Yards

Light up your yard this summer. It's fun, you'll enjoy longer evenings outside, and new garden beauty. And lighting up is simple.

Just hook up a length of garage-mechanic's cord to your handiest source of electricity. Run the cord out a garage or basement window. Then hook on a floodlight. Use the projector-type that won't break when rained on.

Experiment with new tricks to glorify your garden. Hide a lamp behind your finest flowers and let the light shine through. Or light up a tree. But make sure the source of light is hid. Light should fall from two directions—back and side. Or hide a lamp high among the branches. Leaves glow against the black night.

Light up a picnic area with a couple of floods. Keep them 25 or 30 feet away and bugs won't bother you. If you want to, you can have a permanent plug-in-point outdoors. Run a lead-covered cable out to the spot you've picked for outdoor living. Lay the wire underground below spading depth. Use an outdoor weatherproof outlet.

Outlet Is Handy Besides using the outlet for lights, you can plug in hot plate and toaster for a quick snack of sandwiches and coffee. Your friendliest room on summer evenings can be a room without a roof. Long after sundown, you'll enjoy cool breezes and the rustle of its green walls.

Sports are lots of fun after dark when it's cool. Some night soon, why not light up a small patch of lawn and trot out your favorite game? Place lights high for games. Don't overdo it. One or two floods, and a few small lights are best. With only a few, too, you won't overload your circuit. Throw light only on your best places. Your yard will look better than in daylight, because darkness hides the weeds. Try lights here and there. Before you know, you'll be off on a hobby that pays off in beauty and fun.

Try Patterned Shades Do you have a window that looks plain-Jane however you curtain it? Then try a sparkling plaid, flowered or a bright peasant-figured window shade.

Choose a bright-toned floral shade which brings out the colors of your walls and draperies. Sunlight silhouettes its design, makes it more lovely. Decorative window shades are best set off by simple walls and curtains—but there after all, is where you'll most want to use them.

HOT WATER MISERS "WASH UP" WASTE

If you're interested in saving hot water and doing away with fuel waste, your attention is called to two new home appliances that do something about it in a practical way.

There is an automatic washer that saves sudsy hot water in a special storage tank while the second or third load of wash is going through the cycle of washing-damp drying-finsing and tub cleaning. A single dial setting for each load automatically controls the entire process from filling machine or turn-off at end of cycle. This washer needs no bolting down and has a top-opening for easy loading without bending or stooping.

Hot water heaters, in both tabletop and upright models that hold from 10 to 100 gal., have a heat that prevents escape of hot water from tank into house system except when actually drawn from tank. An inlet baffle evenly distributes cold water and heater is fully automatic with adjustable temperature controls. It is heavily insulated, has quick heating immersion type unit and is finished with heavy baked-on enamel over its sturdy steel jacket.

Elephants, contrary to popular legend, don't go to a common elephant graveyard to die. It is estimated that 2000 elephants die in Africa each year. Few of them are found however, for the forest quickly covers over the remains left by scavengers.

U. S. Navy Tests New Attack Bomber

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—A new, bigger and faster attack bomber has passed its first tests for the Navy. An announcement to this effect today provided few details. But from a comparison with present types, the plane shapes up as the heaviest yet designed for carriers. It will carry more than three tons of bombs "considerably" faster than 350 miles an hour.

A compromise between speed and distance, the new XAJ-1 has two conventional engines for normal operation and one turbo-jet in the tail for sudden bursts of speed.

The plane probably will be assigned to the 45,000-ton Midway class carriers because of its size and weight, although a few 27,000-ton carriers have had their decks strengthened for heavier airplanes. The XAJ-1 carries a crew of three in a pressurized cockpit, indicating its planned use at high altitudes.

"The plane is heavier than present attack types (about 20,000 pounds) used in carrier operation, yet lighter than the Neptune P2V (55,000 pounds) which was recently taken off from a carrier," the Navy said.

Operation Stops Uncontrolled Arm

AKRON, Sept. 7—Akron's man with the "whirling arm" says he is looking forward to a "fairly normal life" as the result of an unusual brain operation.

David Harris, 39, a brass company employee, suffered eight years ago a brain hemorrhage which caused him to lose control of his left arm. It threatened amputation, sometimes striking him in the face or stomach. That caused a severe nervous strain.

In a recent five-hour operation at City hospital, a surgeon removed a small portion of the brain, in the section which controlled the arm.

"Immediately after the operation my arm was completely paralyzed," he said. "But after three weeks its strength began returning."

No longer does the arm flail around, and Harris says "today I'm looking forward to a fairly normal life. Today, thanks to this operation, I can really live again."

Dodge
has had for years!

There's a lot of talk today about this new feature or that. But down-to-earth engineering advances are a matter of record. And this record shows that many of today's so-called "new car features" have been part and parcel of Dodge over the years.

From the earliest Dodge Safety Steel Body to today's Dodge All-Fluid Drive, Dodge owners have enjoyed a succession of engineering "firsts". These features have made Dodge famous for comfort, economy and dependability.

You are cordially invited to come in... to check... to compare the scores of "new car features" that Dodge has had for years.
